Bourne-shell-alternate-executable-layout-extension-for-visual-studio-code. Then I want to remove that line. Please tell me how to remove that line. A: It sounds like this is a custom build and is available on GitHub. You can remove this line by editing a file for that extension (run "code --list-extensions" to get a list of what is loaded). Once you know the extension, you can remove the file (in this case: GitHub repository of the extension, GitHub extension, Add this in your.userprefs "vscode.preferences.extensions.json": { "customCommands.prependToCommands": false } and restart vscode. Q: Adding a second counter variable in R I am trying to use a loop to create a loop. The actual purpose of the code is to count the number of completed observations. If I have a time interval of 1 min (and therefore X observations per minute) I want to have the first X observations completed per minute as '0' observations. After the initial observations (if the initial observations were all completed), then the next completed observations would be marked '1' observations. I am having trouble figuring out how to add a variable to my existing code. If someone can help that would be great. cnt1
